DETAILED ACTION

1. Receipt of the amendment filed 7/21/2008 amending claims 1-3 and 16-37 is acknowledged. Claims 1-37 are pending in the application and are presented to be examined upon their merits.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments filed 7/21/2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The applicant asserts that Himmelstein does disclose relinquished or acquired assets and also a first tracking record comprising data reflecting the relinquishment of at least one asset. The Examiner disagrees. Himmelstein suggests that his system can be configured to effectuate a tax deferred exchange (see column 21, lines 43-47). Although it is understood under the Section 1031 that stocks, bonds and notes are excluded from like-kind exchanges, Himmelstein's system can also be used to barter for relinquished and/or acquired assets like real estate (see column 25, line32-34). Thus the rejections using Himmelstein are maintained.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-3, 5-14, 16-19, 21-23, 27-37 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Himmelstein in view of IRS code 1031

<http://ftp.irs.gov/newsroom/article/> and the applicant's Background of the invention.

Himmelstein has been previously discussed. The IRS Section 1031 discloses what a like-kind exchange is, defining relinquished and acquired assets etc., Both Section 1031 and the applicant's background discuss the need of an qualified intermediary to be able to account for like-kind exchanges. Himmelstein discloses an computerized intermediary in (fig. 7B-E, see column 18, lines 48 to column 19, line 40). One of ordinary skill in the art at would have found it obvious to provide Himmelstein with the relinquished and acquired assets as found in section 1031, in order to gain the commonly understood benefits of such adaptation, such as more efficient and reliable data management. This would be accomplished with no unpredictable results. As stated in Leapfrog, "applying modern electronics to older mechanical devices has been commonplace for years." (Leapfrog Enterprises, Inc. v. Fisher-Price, 485 F.3d 1157, 82USPQ2d 1687 (Fed. Cir 2007).

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
